

meet emma
hughes
who lives with acute lymphoblastic
leukaemia

Twelve-year-old Emma of Auckland was diagnosed with leukaemia in January 2008 after being admitted to Starship Hospital. She began chemotherapy immediately and has had to have extended treatment which she is still currently undergoing. She has been unable to attend school since she became ill.

She lives with her father Andrew and grandmother Dianne, sisters Jade 10, Tayla 9 and brother Cameron 7 and cats Sneezy and Milo, dogs Scooby and Sassy and Pirate the fish.

Emma loves dancing, tigers, netball, flipperball, and is fond of animals particularly cats and dogs.

Emma Hughes
Sept 2009

www.curekids.org.nz